

Erich-Weinert-Strasse 53

A former veterinarian practice is to be transformed into a normal apartment to the courtyard and a holiday flat to the front.

A measured survey was conducted upon which the new floor plans were developed. The existing water, electrical, and heating systems of the existing house were checked for their capacities and the new floor plans were developed to minimize disruption and cost.

